Bennett, Howe will fill selectmen seats

Local school budget, statewide funding question passed

By MICHAEL DANIELS
Bethel voters Tuesday re-elected incumbent selectman Don Bennett and chose former selectman Stan Howe to fill the seat vacated on the board by Al Barth.

Bennett, who now begins his third term on the board, received 374 votes.

Howe who is currently on the Board of Assessors, served as a selectman from 1975 to 1983.

He received 254 votes, narrowly beating out third-place finisher Dennis Doyon, who received 235.

Former Bethel Police Chief Darren Tripp finished fourth, with 155 votes, followed by former Selectman Bob Everett (152), Planning Board member Wally Hannigan (61) and Larry Smith (48).

While fewer than a quarter of registered voters statewide turned out for Tuesday's off-year election, more than 40 percent of Bethel's 1716 registered voters showed up to cast their ballots.

In other election balloting, incumbents Howe and David Luxton were re-elected to the Board of Assessors, with 526 and 459 votes respectively.

Larry Smith received 118 votes.

Howe said he now plans to serve on both boards, in the process providing an important communication link between the assessors and selectmen.

"I believe it's important to have representation on both boards," he said.

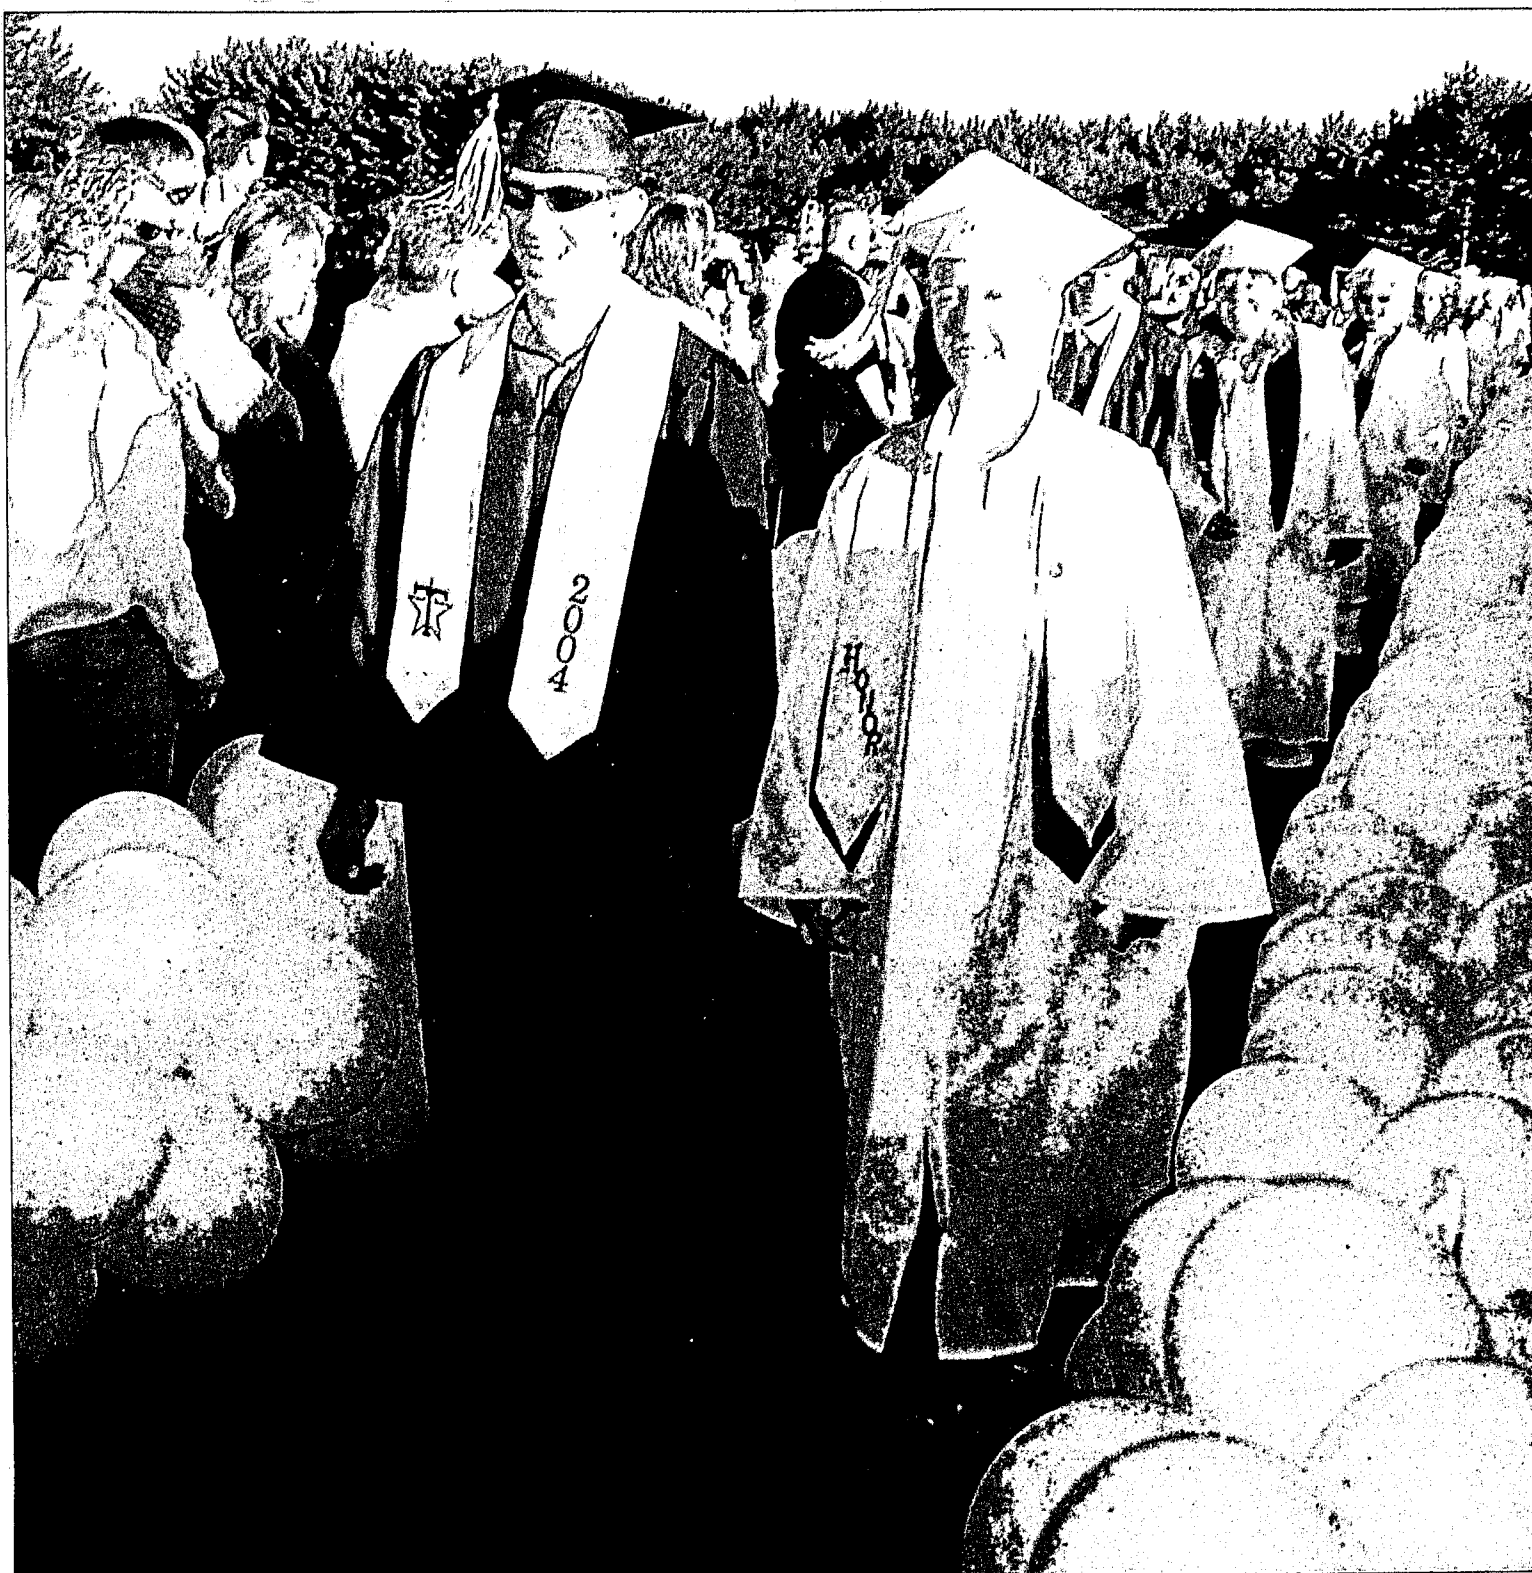

There were no names on the ballot for the two seats open on the SAD44 Board of Directors.

Debbie Wight received 44 write-in votes and will join the board.

Incumbent Lainey Cross received 10 write-in votes. If

Hangar owners group complains of Airport Authority stalling

By MICHAEL DANIELS
A stalled plan by local pilots to build more hangars at the Bethel Airport landed in front of town selectmen Monday.

In January the Bethel Hangar Owners Association presented plans for a seven-hangar building to the Bethel Airport Authority.

In April that plan was approved by the BAA, according to members of that board, but BHOA members say what was approved was not their plan.

"After six months," said BAA member John Mason, "the proposal that got approved was a proposal nobody ever made. Our proposal was never acted on. We got very frustrated and now we're here."

Fellow BAA member Peter Nesbada described the path the organization had taken in arriving at this point.

"In April the authority essentially amended our proposal to include a 14-unit hangar and voted to approve that," Nesbada told the selectmen.

"The problem we have is that it is not our intent to be developers at the airport, but to be owners, local owners of hangars they can stick airplanes into. In our minds the Airport Authority in April neither approved nor disapproved the proposal we made in January. We certainly attempted to work the process and we feel we have reached a dead end."

What he was hoping for from Monday's meeting, Nesbada said, was "to see how we can get to the point where we can make progress with the Airport Authority. If there are specific issues with the proposal and they choose to deny it, we'd like to hear that, and know why they are denying it so we can address it, or we'd like to get an approval of that proposal so we can move ahead."

But BAA member Cathy

Telstar Class of 2004 graduates

By ALISON ALOISIO
With advice ranging from "let knowledge be your shield" to "use sunscreen," the Telstar Regional High School Class of 2004 said goodbye at Friday's Commencement.

Fifty graduates received their diplomas in a sunset ceremony on the school's athletic field.

Principal Shawn Lambert opened the program. He was followed by graduate Angela Hooper's impressive vocal rendition of the Star-Span-gled Banner.

'Don't feel guilty if you don't know what you want to do with your life.'

Teacher Douglas Bennett welcomed parents and friends. He was followed by third-honors graduate Lindsey Farrington, who used the metaphor of an assorted box of chocolates to describe her class.

They come in all flavors, she said, "and without just one, it wouldn't be the same." Taken together, the members all add up to "one great box of treats," said Farrington.

But now, she said, it is time to go on and sample the new flavors of the future.

Salutatorian Santana Wilson said she thought a long time about what to tell her classmates, and at one point "I considered using sock puppets to get my point across," she said.

X-Games winner donates $5,000 to District Exchange

By ALISON ALOISIO
The District Exchange Family Fund will receive $5,000 in the name of Simon Dumont, the Bethel teen who won a skiing gold medal in the Winter X-Games.

Shortly after the January games, held in Colorado, Dumont competed in the Ultimate Bumps & Jumps competition, also in Colorado. In a vote after the events, his fellow-competitors chose him as the skier who had had the best overall performance. His reward: $5,000 to be donated to the charity of his choice.

In the April 22, 1965 edition of The Bethel Citizen, a caption under a photo of the Kimball Block building read: "Being razed to make room for new fire station."

Last Friday, history repeated itself, when Cross Excavation took down the 39-year-old Bethel Fire Station, the building that replaced the Kimball Block in 1965.

RECOGNITION FOR 'MUSH'

To the Editor:

As one who considers Bethel and Woodstock my hometowns, I fully support an appropriate recognition for Roderick "Mush" McMillin. I feel that the fire station in all communities should be identified with that town or city.

Since Mush provided transportation for area youth (I can recall several trips to Red Sox or Braves games) I suggest the school's area transportation facility be named for Mush.

In addition, I recommend that the fire department's assembly or meeting room be named for Mush along with some photos and outline of his service in the military, the fire department and services as a town constable for all visitors and fire and security personnel to view. If possible, the material could explain how Roderick became "Mush."

ALBANY ASSOC. YARD SALE

To the Editor:

As the weather warms and we all become more active, the natural activity this time of year is cleaning around the house. What to do with the still useful and valuable items that no longer have a place at your house? Don't throw them away. The Albany Improvement Association is getting ready to have their yard sale again this year, on June 19 and 20.

The yard sales have become the only way to support the cost of the Albany Town Hall. The major annual cost is the insurance, which is approaching $1,000 annually.

The yard sale has to be successful just for this amount. This does not leave much to go to the ever-growing wish list, like new wiring, plumbing, etc. If Albany were a town, tax money would cover the cost of improvements; since we are not, there are no funds for the building upkeep.

The Albany Town Hall can be supported by your merchandise donations, purchases at the yard sale or cash donations. We need your help. For items to be donated, call Buzzy Lapham, or after 5 p.m. call me at 824-3611. Monetary donations of any size can be mailed to AIA, P.O. Box 1213, Bethel, ME 04217.

AMAZING, WONDERFUL EVENT

To the Editor:

Recently, the most amazing and wonderful event occurred in my little world on Tyler Street. Four smiling people from Northeast Bank showed up on my lawn and asked me what they could do to lend a helping hand with any kind of job that needed 'doing.' With great enthusiasm and energy, led by the indomitable Jeannine Buck, they proceeded to clear out, shape up and weed my perennial gardens. Earlier that morning I had attempted to weed that same area, and with disgust at myself for pulling up plants instead of weeds, I had quit the job.

Even Bronson had a marvelous time — he got to ride in Jeannine's car, kiss Stephanie, Sean and Scott and wag his tail with great sweeps of joy.

A very heartfelt thank you to Northeast Bank for their participation in the United Way Community Service Day. Big hugs and thanks to Jeannine, Scott, Sean and Stephanie for their caring enough for their community to do such a grand thing for me.

And one last thank you to Ellie for putting me on the list for community service from the bank.

THE CAMERA WILL BE ON ATVS

To the Editor:

I am writing to let everyone that owns an ATV know that if you ride on my land and you do any damage you will have to repair the damage. You may say to yourself: How will she know who are the ones that have done the damage? I own a lot of land not just here in Maine but other states. I am putting cameras up to see who the ones are that are doing the damage.

CORRECTION

Words omitted from selectmen's statement: On page four of last week's edition of The Citizen we published a statement from the Bethel Board of Selectmen regarding earlier comments by Town Manager Scott Cole. We presented the statement as being in its entirety, and that was certainly our intent; regrettably, however, two words and one prefix were inadvertently omitted. The affected sentences should have read: "The most obvious concerns are for Scott's unprofessional remarks while in the employ of the town of Bethel and for the many townspeople, young and old, who have been hurt by them. The selectmen have been aware of this conversation since it was delivered to several of them by Darren or Haley Tripp, have discussed it briefly with the Town Manager, and have agreed to consider it more fully as part of the Manager's annual performance evaluation in early June."

The Citizen regrets any confusion or misperceptions the omissions might have caused.

Selectmen issue letter of reprimand to Scott Cole

The Bethel Board of Selectmen has issued the following letter of reprimand to Town Manager Scott Cole. The letter is in regard to comments reported in The Bethel Citizen on May 27. Release of the letter to the press was authorized by Cole, according to Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

Dear Scott:

The Board of Selectmen has met to consider appropriate response to your alleged actions as reported in the May 27, 2004, issue of The Bethel Citizen and generally confirmed in our meetings with you and in your response to those allegations. In that episode you have used inflammatory rhetoric in describing a group of local students who had reportedly harassed the daughter of Bill and Karen Hopkins, who sought your help in ending the alleged harassment. You also used a crude metaphor in describing the actions of Darren Tripp and Phil Taylor on the day of the armed robbery in Bethel in December.

As Selectmen we were unanimous in our view of the matter and in the way in which we chose to address it. While the manner in which the information surrounding this episode was collected and distributed was repugnant to us all, that doesn't diminish the fact that you were unprofessional and vulgar in your characterizations of others during the conversation with the Hopkinses. Those remarks were unnecessary and hurtful to many people.

The work of local government should be to support the efforts of the citizens of the community; that must also be the mission of those who work in support of local government. As the leader of the Town's employees, you should be setting the example for those in your employ. Clearly the behavior reported in The Bethel Citizen article was irresponsible and is not behavior that any in the Town would want to represent them.

This is a letter of reprimand from the Board of Selectmen. We found your remarks distasteful, hurtful, and not in keeping with the manner in which we'd like to see the public treated by Town employees. While you are employed by the Town of Bethel you are to exercise greater restraint and keener judgment in your interactions with people on Town matters than is reflected in these actions. It is our fondest hope that the Town will be a peaceful, constructive place; your discretion will help considerably and is required. Further instances of behavior demonstrating similarly poor judgment could result in disciplinary action including suspension or termination.

As you know better than most, there's plenty of good work to be done in Bethel. We're anxious to get down to that good work with you. After a long, hard spring, we'll look forward to sharing with you a renewed focus on the work we can do that people expect and appreciate.

Sincerely, Donald Bennett, Reginald Brown, Jack Cross, Dutch Dresser

THE WORSE THING TO DO IS NOTHING

To the Editor:

I have been following with interest the "Harper Valley PTA" contest between the town manager and the ex-police chief. With little to go on besides the flurry of allegations in The Citizen, I can only say that I think the citizens of this fair village deserve better than both of these guys.

What is of much greater concern to me, and I think should be to others, are the allegations of assault and sexual intimidation (or whatever you call it) supposedly occurring at Telstar High School during school hours. It was apparently this situation, reported by the parents of the victim of the alleged assaults that led to the latest tape recording in the town manager's office. Why have I not heard a peep from anyone in authority, either acknowledging or refuting these reports of assault? Are they keeping them "under wraps" until after the assailant(s) graduate, hoping the situation will go away? Is it because the individuals involved are juveniles?

It seems to me that every parent or guardian of students at Telstar deserves to have a thorough and complete investigation of the reported assaults, harassment, or whatever to find out if such things actually happened. Having dealt with personnel problems in the past, I am the first to acknowledge that the majority of situations of this type are not as they would initially appear. Therefore, a thorough investigation, by a competent authority, is essential to determine the facts. This should include interviews with everyone who might have been in position to hear or see any of what allegedly happened.

The results of such an investigation need to be published (not necessarily to reveal the names of juveniles) but to either confirm a bad situation or to reassure parents that everything is indeed okay.

The absolute worst thing to do is nothing. Letting guilty individuals off the hook without punishment, or at least engaging the parents, will only lead to more of the same — if not by the same individuals, then by other "ne'er do wells" who have seen others get away with it. Further, if juveniles find out they can get away with assault in school, they are likely to continue similar, or worse, behavior after they leave school. On the other hand, if the allegations prove to be false, parents and other students can rest easier, knowing that the authorities are concerned enough to find out what is really going on in their school.

SELECTMAN DELAYED DEPARTURE TO VOTE ON CHIEF

To the Editor:

Look who's calling the kettle black: Didn't a recent selectman who now resides in another town postpone the closing of his house sale. His vote was needed to assure that Police Chief Tripp would be ousted.

Those of us, and there were many, brought it to MRD's attention but he wouldn't print it. He said it was not an illegal maneuver.

Mary Leimbach

(Nor did it affect the outcome of the appeal. Without the vote of the selectman in question, Al Barth, the result would have a 2-2 tie, and on a tie vote the appeal is rejected.

BETHEL RESCUE FUNDRAISERS

To the Editor:

We would like to remind the citizens of Bethel and surrounding communities of a few fundraising activities currently in the works at Bethel Rescue. We are in need of some items that are necessary to ensure the safety of all personnel while they complete their duties as a volunteer for this ambulance service. Please consider supporting us in one of the following two ways.

We are raffling a queen size quilt. The quilt is a "Fat Quarter Mystery Quilt" pattern, with a "Stars and Stripes" theme. The quilt was made and donated by Dawn Grinding. Tickets are still available, as the winner will be drawn at our annual meeting on June 13. Tickets are $1 for 1, $5 for 6, and $10 for 15. Please call 836-2771 for tickets and more information. We will make every effort to deliver them. We are also offering to stop by businesses to visit groups of employees who are interested in buying tickets.

This past week members of Bethel Rescue visited several businesses to seek sponsors for Longaberger Baskets to be used in a basket bingo. If we missed you, and you are interested in donating the cost of one of these baskets, please call Dawn at 836-2771 for more info. The donations are tax deductible. We are in need for more sponsors to make this fundraiser successful. As we visited the businesses, we made every effort to talk to the manager. Due to work schedules and business hours this may not have always been possible. Please use this letter as a reminder that we are still accepting donations, even though the deadline has passed, and you may still call or e-mail Dawn for more information. As a sponsor, we invite you to include a brochure or business card with your donation, so that we may attach it to the basket to let everyone know that you support Bethel Rescue. Baskets may also be sponsored by families and in memory of a community member or loved one.

In closing, without the continued support of the community, these fundraisers would not be as successful. Please consider helping with this event. For more information, buy raffle tickets, or to sponsor a basket, please call Dawn Grinding at 836-2771. There is a voice mail, and we will make every effort to return your call as soon as possible. Or you may write to us at grondin@megalink.net.

Thanks again for your support,

Randall and Dawn Grondin

COMMUNITY GATHERING PLANNED

To the Editor:

To residents of Bethel and surrounding communities:

What do you love about the Bethel area? How shall we preserve the Bethel area's uniqueness and quality of life? How can we enhance the Bethel area's economic future?

A community gathering is being planned for October. Its goal is to stimulate ideas about the Bethel area's future, share what other communities are doing to thrive in the new economy, and to select a few projects on which Bethel should focus over the next 5 to 10 years.

Diverse views are welcome and needed from all generations, year-round and part-time residents, and from all sectors including business, agriculture, forestry, education, arts and tourism.

Lend your voice to the planning of the October gathering. All residents are invited to a meeting on Monday, June 28, 6:30 p.m. at the Bethel Town Office meeting room. Hope to see you there.

State cracking down on fireworks

AUGUSTA — In an effort to stem the illegal transportation of firecrackers and fireworks into Maine, the State Fire Marshal's Office says it will beef up enforcement with Maine State Police this month along the border areas. Fire Marshal John Dean said his investigators will be working with state troopers primarily along Maine-New Hampshire border. "Many states allow fireworks to be sold at roadside stands, including New Hampshire, and the enforcement effort is designed to keep that contraband out of Maine," said Dean. "Many residents and visitors to Maine do not realize that fireworks can be sold legally elsewhere, but are illegal at the Maine border, and our enforcement effort is designed to keep the contraband out of Maine." Violators could face fines up to $5,000 and will have any illegal fireworks seized. Maine is one of seven states that ban all consumer fireworks. The only fireworks allowed in Maine without a license are sparklers, morning glories and caps, and Dean urged strict supervision on their use, especially by children. "Over 9,000 people are injured each year in the U.S. by fireworks and fire crackers, and I strongly recommend avoiding any function where they are used illegally or by amateurs," said Dean.

N.H. bans MTBE

CONCORD, N.H. — New Hampshire has joined other states, including Maine, in banning the gasoline additive MTBE. Gov. Craig Benson allowed the bill to become law without his signature. The law would ban methyl tertiary-butyl ether by 2007. The chemical is blamed for polluting 15 percent of the state's public water supplies and thousands of private wells. The additive is included in gas as a cleanser to reduce air pollution and was required under a federal program. The Environmental Protection Agency has given preliminary acceptance to the state's plan to opt out of the program. To do so, the state had to show the EPA it had another plan to reduce air pollution. Under the law, the state would adopt new rules that reduce ozone by requiring clean industrial and architectural coatings, solvents and portable fuel containers. New Hampshire joins Maine, New York, California and Connecticut in banning MTBE in favor of a different additive, ethanol. The ban has led to a lawsuit in at least one state. Methanex Corp., a Canadian company that makes an MTBE component, filed a $970 million lawsuit seeking compensation for lost profits. The company argues California's MTBE ban was meant to remove foreign competition for U.S. producers of ethanol, a potential MTBE substitute.

THE VALUES FOR THEIR YOUNG LIVES

To the Editor:

We are all too aware of the negative front pages of almost every paper across the country. Sometimes there is so much devastation, shootings, break-ins and unnecessary deaths that we could easily have a tough time finding a reason to smile.

This is not the case in our town. We may not stop to think enough about what counts in our neighborhood, country and nation because we have fallen into the work-eat-TV-sleep pattern with little time for more, but I ask you all to listen for a moment.

We have, right under our noses, a sample of why the world keeps turning. Working, planning and living continues because the children of our community deserve our attempts to ready what we have for the day these children have grown into responsible adults, ready to take it over. It doesn't just happen.

Those with young families, think about the caring and attention your child receives (or received) day after day. If you are among the lucky families to be part of programs such as the West Bethel Children's Center, I celebrate with you.

Of all the centers I have participated in over the years, in many other towns, we are very fortunate to have an excellent one where there are truly caring teachers looking after the needs of our growing little ones.

Remember these are the same children who will begin taking care of our community within the next 20 years. The base we give them, the patience, the attitudes they grow up with and the positive reinforcement they receive makes a huge difference in how they "turn out." Children don't learn to accept violence, they are taught there is no better choice.

At excellent schools, such as WBCC, they are taught that fairness, honesty, caring and cooperative teamwork makes the right decision, while violence is a problem to be corrected. These little people are us, just 20 years or so younger, and I applaud the Children's Center staff with a standing ovation, as I do our terrific grade schools, for being part of the positives in our children's lives.

Without them, we would be joining the ranks of those communities with high crime rates and deteriorating values. Without them to enrich the young minds we love and care for at home, do we have a whole heck of a lot to look forward to here in Bethel?

School is nearing its end for 2003-04. Yes, there will be some kids out there on the streets acting up. However, I would rather walk down our streets in the evening than 99 percent of the other communities in the country.

We know why. So — I ask all of you, the next time you pass a child from our community, do you think a smile or kind word might help them feel better about our community? I do. May I never overlook or forget to appreciate those who feed our children's minds ever again. I hold true gratitude for every teacher who has shared their caring and positive attitude with their students and I hold a new appreciation for those children, growing right in front of our eyes, who have listened, and find the values they were taught important in their young lives, and all our future.

AN DAY FOR ARTISANS TO OPEN THEIR DOORS

To the Editor:

I feel somewhat apologetic to be writing a letter to the editor that isn't angry and born of contempt, but I do hope my appeal for public participation incites some interest.

Several weeks ago I invited the "creative economy" of Bethel to join Timberlake's Home Store in opening their studios and shops on Saturday, June 19 to give the public an opportunity to meet the artisans, see their work being made (if possible), and learn more about their craft and livelihood.

Perhaps some of my creative brethren did not see the earlier letter to this paper and have not considered this opportunity, this one-day event, as something that can be very beneficial to your business, and heck, who doesn't like hearing "that's really good work" once in awhile?

Mt. Mann, The Outlook Studios, and Bonnema Pottery have agreed to open their doors beyond the front door mats to show and describe their work. I have invited a number of the artisans who show their work in our store to be in attendance that day to meet the public as well.

I am also inviting any artisan with work to show and sell, and who does not have space at their home/studio, to put a table or tent on our large lawn on Route 2 and display your works Saturday, June 19, as part of the Summer Solstice Festival.

Call me at 824-6545 for more information on making Open Studio Saturday a success for you and the community.

THANKS TO THE SUMMIT HOTEL

To the Editor:

For probably ten of the thirteen years of the Explorations Art Program, the Summit Hotel has donated space for bi-annual art exhibits. Recently the Summit again hosted this exhibit. This one had the special distinction of being dedicated to the life of Celina Jodrey, complete with a beautiful portrait of her painted by her son Austin.

It was a lovely event, in a perfect setting, giving all of us who knew and loved Celina another opportunity to honor her. The Summit Hotel Conference Sales Office treated Explorations with professionalism and generosity as if I were a paying customer. I have always appreciated this donation of space and service, but this year it was particularly heartfelt.

Thank you.

HOW SATISFYING TO HAVE SADDAM'S W.M.D.

To the Editor:

As I understand it from the news media, when Saddam Hussein was taken into custody by the US military, he was armed with a pistol. Since then the military has presented the pistol to our president as a trophy. It must serve as an immense satisfaction and sense of accomplishment to the President, to have in his personal possession, Saddam Hussein's "weapon of mass destruction."

she does not choose to accept the position, the selectmen would fill it by appointment.

A total of 28 other candidates were written in, each receiving from one to four votes.

School decisions

Local voters joined voters statewide in approving Referendum Question 1, which calls on the Legislature to spend more state money on local schools — a change supporters say will ease local property tax burdens.

The measure passed statewide by 55 to 45 percent. Similar margins were reflected in balloting here.

The six articles on the SAD44 budget referendum were also approved.

All six passed in each of the district's towns, in most cases by comfortable margins.

Bethel voters were scheduled to return to the job of local governance Wednesday evening (after The Citizen's presstime), when they were to assemble in the Crescent Park School gymnasium to take up the remaining 34 articles on this year's annual Town Meeting warrant.

Airport

Newell argued the BHOA proposal had in fact been approved.

"I would certainly take issue that we didn't approve the project. It's in the minutes," she said.

Those minutes state the proposal was approved, "with the modification that an additional seven-unit hangar be able to be placed on the south side of the BHOA hangar attached by a common wall."

The modification, she said, was part of the authority's ongoing attempt to ensure that as the airport is developed the limited space available there for building hangars is maximized.

But in the case of the BHOA's proposal, she said, "We certainly didn't tell them they had to build 14 units. We expected to have further discussion at our next meeting, but there was no one there from the hangar owners' association."

"We don't consider that we rejected (the proposal) nor that we've been stonewalling," she said.

Members of both the BHOA and Airport Authority said they thought more involvement by the selectmen could contribute to resolving the stalemate.

The selectmen agreed to try, but admitted to some confusion regarding the complicated situation.

That confusion led to some of the discussion's lighter moments.

At one point Reggie Brown asked BAA members if the situation could be summarized as follows: "They came in and asked for seven units, and basically you said 'No, but you can build 14.'"

At another point, BAA member John Head noted that the approval voted on by the authority was "in principal."

That prompted Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen to ask: "So you didn't really approve it?"

"In principal," Head repeated, occasioning laughter throughout the room.

"I don't know why you have a problem with that," Head said. "I don't have a problem with that."

"Cathy just told us you approved it, and you just told us you didn't," Dresser replied.

On a more serious note, Dresser pushed the authority members for an estimate of how much longer further review of the proposal might take.

"It seems to me the building cycle around here is very short, and ordering steel and all those kinds of things takes time," he said. "I'm asking you to speculate a bit about what a real timeline for reaching some sort of mutually agreeable conclusion might be."

No firm timeline was proposed Monday, but it was eventually agreed the BHOA would appear at the June 16 BAA meeting, with plans for how an additional seven hangars might fit into the scheme of things.

Nesbeda, however, said he remained concerned that still more ideas and alternatives could be introduced at the meeting, "and we'll spin our wheels for yet another meeting cycle, or another two meeting cycles."

If and when the proposal is approved by the BAA, a lease rate must also be set and approved by the selectmen.

And any new building would also have to be approved by the Bethel Planning Board.

Wilson went on to read the poem "Magic Carpet," by Shel Silverstein.

Valedictorian Megan Kelly, drawing on the words of Baz Luhrmann, advised her classmates to "use sunscreen" and "floss."

But in addition to practical advice, Kelly also told them not to worry if they don't yet know what paths they want to pursue.

"Don't feel guilty if you don't know what you want to do with your life. Some of the most interesting people I know didn't know what they wanted to do at 18. Some of them didn't know what they wanted to do at 40."

Krystle Gould and Meagan Lunney offered "Reflections" on the class members' experiences in school, ranging from kindergarten to high school. Memories included class trips to Boston, athletic accomplishments and social gatherings.

The graduates then sang, with great enthusiasm, the class song "Forever Young."

School Board chair Becky Cummings followed with her congratulations, and Supt. David Murphy certified the graduates.

Lambert asked graduates to consider the words of Richard Wagner: "Joy is not in things, it is in us." Lambert advised them, as they travel the road of life, to "roll down the window and let the wind blow through your hair."

The graduates were then presented their diplomas.

Class co-presidents Alanna Borst and Priscilla Thurston gave the farewell, telling graduates to "dare to be great." If they chose instead to simply do what is easy, said the co-presidents, "the only reward is that it is easy."

Charles Raymond, dean of students, closed the ceremony. "We love these people—and they love some of us," he said of the class, drawing laughter from the crowd.

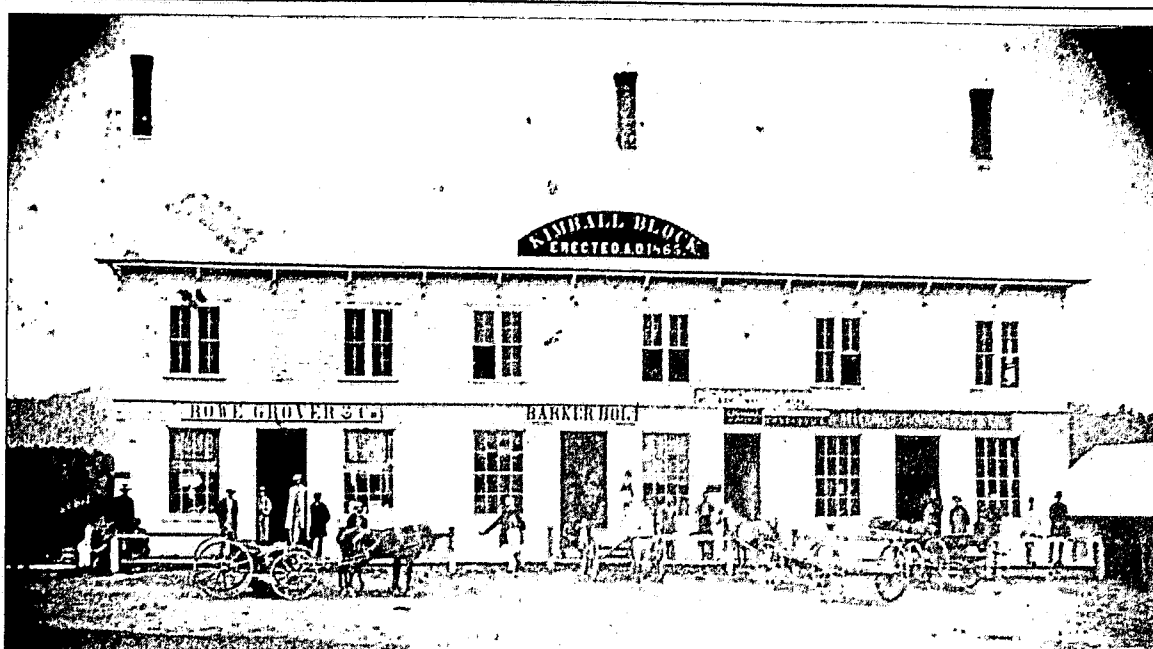

Before sending them off to celebrate their graduation, Raymond asked the fun-loving group "to look out for each other just a little bit longer."

The graduates marched out to "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the high school band.

They went off to Jokers in South Portland for Project Graduation, returning in the morning for breakfast at the Jackson-Silver Legion Post in Locke Mills.

made room for a driveway to access the new fire station, which is located just behind and downhill from the old station site.

The driveway will be paved, and will be bordered by green space and trees.

Kimball Block pieces

The crew excavating the ground on the site this week has found pieces of pipe and foundation from the old Kimball Block structure.

The two-story, wooden Kimball building was constructed in 1865. The first floor housed stores and the post office for a time. The second floor contained a community room and apartments, according to Stan Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society.

After the Fire Department was formed in 1899, firefighters used one end of the building as their headquarters. Howe said

The department stayed there until the "new" station was built. Construction on that project began in late May of 1965.

Bethel voters approved the 2004 version of the Bethel fire station last year, at a cost of $1.3 million.

exchange board, couldn't be happier.

"The emergency fund is for families with generally unmet needs. It's for people who fall between the cracks in state agencies," she said.

Newell said the fund has been used to purchase such things as medical equipment, heating fuel and electrical power.

It is also used to fill unusual transportation needs of local people.

"It's to help people get on the road to self-sufficiency," she said, and Dumont's gift will now enable the fund to put more people on that road.

BHS HOUSE TOUR ATTRACTION

Among the houses on the Bethel Historical Society's House and Garden Tour June 18 and 19 (from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.) will be the Bingham House on Broad St., built in 1906. This shingle style "cottage" was built in 1906 for Alice Wright. In the early 1920s, she sold the property to William Bingham II (1879-1955), who made it his home until his death. Shy and reclusive, Bingham rarely left this house and dealt with the world through his lawyer, physician, and attendants. He engaged the Boston architectural firm of Coolidge and Carlson to remodel the house to his specifications. Bingham, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, was dedicated to supporting medical and educational programs and institutions. Many of the buildings at Gould Academy are the result of his generosity. During his lifetime, the Trust for Charity and the Bingham Associates Fund were created to benefit causes to which the benefactor was dedicated. After his death, the Bettermont Fund and the William Bingham Foundation were established to carry on his philanthropic endeavors. The present owners of the property are Charles and Edith Seashore. For more information on the tour, call 824-2908.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

The film crew from Animal Planet was in the area recently to audition some of the local folks' favorite pets for a segment called "Stupid Animal Tricks."

I guess Animal Planet goes all over the country in search of dogs that can bark out tunes like "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" or talking birds that can recite the alphabet. It's all very amusing I'm sure.

Though I have never been able to teach any of my pets to do a single trick, I have always enjoyed observing the pets of others that are trainable.

I have also always enjoyed observing some of the "stupid human tricks" that we frequently read or hear about. That could make an interesting television show, but since so many of the ones I read about are done during the commission of a crime, it probably wouldn't work out.

A good case in point is a would-be thief in Illinois who kidnapped a motorist by pretending to have a concealed gun. This brilliant criminal then forced the frightened motorist to drive to two different bank ATM machines.

A more skilled crook would have forced the motorist to withdraw money from their accounts, take the money and the car and leave the victim stranded on the highway, safe, but with a drained bank account.

But the genius in this particular case apparently wasn't too experienced and a little confused on the concept and the bank accounts that were drained happened to be his own.

Another fool with the concealed weapon ruse was a man from Modesto, California. He was arrested for attempting to rob a Bank of America. His stupid trick was to use his thumb and a finger to simulate a gun, but unfortunately for this Einstein, he forgot to keep his hand in his pocket.

Though I have never been able to teach any of my pets to do a single trick, I have always enjoyed observing the pets of others that are trainable.

A man from Los Angeles apparently had a real gun, but not enough ammunition in his brain to know when to keep his mouth shut. During a line-up each man in line was asked to say, "Give me all your money or I'll shoot." The hope was that the victim would recognize the voice. It turned out to not be necessary because the stupid trick of this nitwit was to shout out "That's not what I said!"

Speaking of guns, an armed man from Oakland, California had barricaded himself inside his house and was threatening to shoot anyone who came near. The police were, of course called and spent over two hours trying to coax the disturbed man to come out. A rather large crowd had gathered to watch the drama play out. Finally the police fired ten gas canisters in an effort to force the man out. As they were wondering why the man did not respond, a neighbor pointed out that the man in the crowd shouting, "Come out and give yourself up," was in fact the man who was supposed to be barricaded in the house.

I guess he was just trying to be helpful. Another helpful man committed his "stupid human trick" at a convenience store in Topeka, Kansas. He robbed the store, but must not have felt the take all that big. He then tied the clerk up and worked the counter himself for three hours until the police showed up and arrested him.

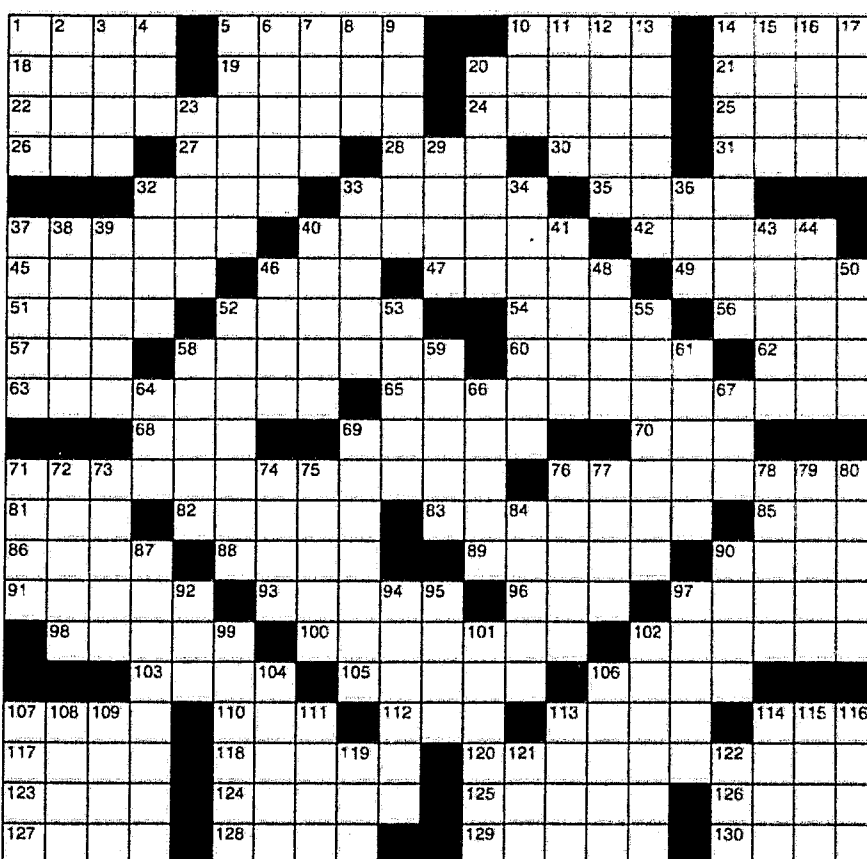

Not all "stupid human tricks" are done by the reprobates of the world. This next true story took place at Lake Isabella, about an hour's ride from Bakersfield, California. A man with a brand new boat was having problems getting the 22' craft going. It was very sluggish in almost every maneuver, no matter how much power was applied. After about an hour of trying to make it go, he putted to a nearby marina, thinking someone there could tell him what was wrong. A thorough topside check revealed everything in perfect working condition. The engine ran fine, the out-drive went up and down, the prop was the correct size and pitch. So, one of the marina guys jumped in the water to check underneath. After a short time, the diver came up choking on water, he was laughing so hard.

The "stupid human trick" done by the boat owner was to leave the boat securely strapped in place on the trailer!

I think that all of us have committed a few "stupid human tricks" of our own, one time or another. The way I see it I have probably committed more than my share; now if only I could teach my cats a few.

You'd be amazed. Walk down Broad Street one day, all seemed normal. The old fire station is as always. Go down the next day, on the same route, and the old fire station is gone. I mean gone.

Congratulations to all the graduates. We wish them happy and successful futures.

Sue and Dick Angevine are the proud grandparents of Santana Wilson and Dustin Angevine who graduated.

Santana was salutatorian of the Class of 2004. Both will attend the U.M.O. in the fall.

We are equally proud of our nephew, Steven Stafford, of North Reading, Mass., who graduated with honors. He has received a sizeable scholarship to U.Mass at Amherst.

Sandy and Gene Wixom have returned to Upton after a 9,000-mile plus trip around our great country. They had a wonderful adventure. Gene topped of the trip with eye surgery and is recovering well. He is ready to launch his pontoon boat, "Rock Bottom 2," any day now. I hope he can find room to navigate to the "Deep Hole" what with all the bass fishermen and "Pontooners" on the lake.

The Ladies Aid met on Tuesday, June 1. Plans for summer activities were discussed. Lucille Largesse challenged the members to bring a plan for an activity to be aired at the next meeting on Thursday, June 10, at 2 p.m. All the women in town are welcomed to attend.

Simone Lavalley did not choose to run for office this year. She has been a great president and has worked diligently to keep the Ladies Aid an existing part of the town. It is a very old organization. The new slate of officers are: president, Sue Angevine, vice president, Margaret Mitchell, treasurer, Jerry Kenney, secretary, Ellie LeComte.

The members wish to thank Connie and John Angevine of Colebrook Feed, for the donation of a window box filled with flowers. It is green and in the shape of a rowboat. It looks great perched on the railing of the Ladies Aid Building.

Effie Kenney and Simone Lavalley are great-grandmothers again. Jamie and Nicholas are the proud parents of Lilly. The grandparents of Lilly are Jerry Kenney and Wilford Lavalley. The parents and baby are doing very well.

I passed the Northland Restaurant on my way to Berlin Saturday. The building is nearing completion and looks wonderful. Lionel and Jeanette Roy have worked very hard to bring the North Country treasure back. I can smell the fried clams already and oh, that strawberry pie has no equal.

was held Monday, June 7, in the School House. Construction commenced Tuesday, June 8. East "B" Hill will be closed at a certain time during construction and the dates of closure will be posted. Signage at both ends of the road will indicate "Road Closed."

While up-lake last week, Buster Williamson, guide and all-around good fellow witnessed a segment of nature in the works. Two fish hawks had snagged a fairly large fish. Their good luck was interrupted when a bald eagle interfered causing the fish hawks to drop their quarry. The eagle never attempted to retrieve the fish from the water. Buster believes that because it was near the eagle's nest that it was protective action on "Mamma Bird's" part.

Limited "yakking space" in The Citizen requires that I again refer you to your favorite bird book for information on ospreys and bald eagles, the "Birds of the Week."

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney

My condolences to the family and friends of Floyd Emerson, who passed away unexpectedly last week. Floyd was a lifetime resident of Andover and will be greatly missed by us all.

Last week at the Telstar Awards Banquet, two graduating students were chosen to be Mr. Telstar and Miss Telstar. The award represents what a good student should be, and I am very happy and proud to announce that this year the awards went to two Andover students: Ben Bailey, son of Don and Barbara Bailey, and Lindsey Farrington, daughter of Mark and Sharon Farrington.

Congratulations to you both. Not only do you represent Telstar but also the town of Andover.

I want to welcome back Phyllis and Leon Simmons. They have returned from their winter in Florida and will be here for the summer.

The Snow Valley Diner has changed their hours; the new hours are from 6 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. This Sunday they will be having their first "Special."

The meal will consist of salad, homemade chicken pie, and a hot roll, all for $6.50. All the cooks in the family should take the day off, bring all the people you usually feed and go try it. The Arcade is also up and running.

The Andover Service Circle did a good job last Saturday cleaning up the sides of the roads. Thanks to them our town will look great for our upcoming Birthday Weekend. Don't forget that the ASC is putting on the Pancake Breakfast on Sunday, June 20.

Schedules for the Bicentennial have been posted around town, and we have copies at the Town Office if you need one. Please, everybody, pray to whatever Weather Gods or Goddesses you know for a fair weekend. Rain, rain, go away.

The Time Capsule has been found, by the way. Now you have to get something ready to put in the new one that will be opened in 25 years. No stink bombs please.

I have always known that the people of the town of Andover are hard working, ready to give of themselves, and volunteer to do things for each other, but sometimes I forget this and get a "wake-up call."

A couple of weeks ago I went to my first ball game in a long time, and it amazed me to watch what hard work, dedication, and patience, the coaches of the ball teams have. I don't know how they find the time to do all that they have to do just so the children of Andover can play baseball and softball.

If you haven't yet, try to get to a couple of games, they are really fun to watch, and maybe you can show your appreciation to the coach just by saying "thank you."

My mother and I traveled to Fryeburg Academy last Sunday to attend the graduation of my nephew, Mark Gagné. It was a great day, and also an anniversary for me, because 45 years ago yesterday was my graduation day.

I don't think I'll see Mark's 45th anniversary — who wants to live to be 106? Not me, that's for sure. See ya.

Congratulations Graduates, here's to the greatest gift of all...

Hanover

Swimming lessons begin at Howard Pond on June 28 and go to July 9. Registration will be June 28 at noon at the beach by the dam. There is no fee for the lessons. The program is sponsored by the Greater Rumford Community Center and the Town of Hanover in cooperation with the Howard Pond Campers Association.

Work is progressing on the Route 2 repaving project in Hanover and Rumford. The bumps near Top Hat Road have been fixed and work is continuing on guardrail improvements.

Officials warn that motorists can expect delays on this stretch of road all summer.

Meanwhile, on town roads, work will begin soon to replace and reset some culverts in the Howard Pond area on Howard Pond Road and South Shore Road.

Matthew and Jenny Tirrell of Mechanic Falls visited relatives in the area last Friday. They spent some time with Jenny's grandmother, Louise Worcester. Matthew had recently returned from a weeklong fishing vacation at Azisecos Lake. He showed a video of a bald eagle that he took while fishing.

Others visiting Louise Worcester lately have been Daran and Fran Worcester from New Hampshire, and Brad Worcester and his friend Amanda from Belfast. Louise reports that she enjoys watching all the puppies at the house across the street.

Locke Mills

I don't much like it when a week has passed and I can remember very little that went on in it. About that time I have to decide that I have not made much of a contribution to this world I live in, and since reading the "Purpose Driven Life" I figure I ought to make some effort to be more effective. At what I haven't figured out yet which makes a pretty good excuse to do nothing. I am nothing if not lazy.

One thing I did do and that was attend the Memorial Day cookout at Owen and Debbie Brown's new home. Actually, it was cook out and mostly eat in, as the bugs refused to leave us alone. It was sort of an open house deal and people came and went. Randy, whose last name escapes me, and it shouldn't as he attends church, was there most all day, as Owen went and got him in the morning and took him home later that evening. I wandered in about noon and then Pip and Ada, Debbie's mother and father, came a little after I did, and then Hope Tibbetts and daughter, Brenda, whose name I know but can't spell, which is almost as bad as not knowing, showed up for a while. Ralph and Lorene came over but they didn't stay long as Ralph was still recuperating from that virus and Lorene had just gotten over the worst of it but still wasn't feeling very well. Finally, Elizabeth Putnum showed up, as she had had to work, so we had supper and then watched a movie the Browns' had just gotten from "Feature Films for Families." It was supposed to have taken place in the '40's right after the 2nd World War, but we who remembered what it was like, and those whose parents had told them what it was like, back then, sort of figured some of it was not quite as we remembered it, especially when this young fellow defied his father and turned his back and walked away and the father just sat there. In the first place back then most of us wouldn't have done that and if we had the consequences would have been immediate and severe. I can't remember my mother ever hitting or spanking me, but she was pretty good with a switch, which I had to select from a tree in the back yard.

I think that made it even more memorable than the actual switching although it stung somewhat. And, yes, I remember why I got punished but those are other stories for another time. Mostly though I think we obeyed because we just did and never analyzed just why. Of course back then teachers were allowed to discipline quite severely but mostly it was the boys that got it. My worst punishment was a shaking that hurt my pride more than anything else. Ah, the good old days. Even Mr. Filch would have approved.

Nobody gets to hear a Jazz-Poochie story anymore because he and Lucy, like the rest of us, get older each year, they even faster than we. But a couple or so weeks ago Matt and Mandy were here so Matt could use the computer, and shortly after they left Matt came back and asked me if the two dogs that were out were mine. He said an "old fat beagle" was down over the hill and the other dog was in the yard. Sure enough it was Lucy and Jazz-Poochie. Alas, Matt was able to get hold of Jazz-Poochie and Lucy walked obediently back to her "pad" with the Poochie following after. Somehow I liked it better when I was scrambling after them and they kept just out of my reach. And how did they get out, well, I had forgotten to lock their door behind me when I filled their water dish. What have we come to? Old fat beagle? Lucy and I not able to scramble any more? I actually forgot to lock their door? It is enough to make a grown man cry!

Calla and Jeff Tyler have been busy getting their trailer ready to live in. I haven't heard that they have actually been able to move into it yet but things are looking up.

Sunday last I took quite a trip for me. I decided to decorate the graves all by myself where Ralph wasn't feeling well, and I did the West Bethel cemetery first and then headed for Gil-eard and went over the Notch to do my father's. As you may have remembered I said I did not have a really good sense of direction because I happily figured I was going to reach Harrison when I got through there, with not much trouble. It wasn't until I left Stow that I began to realize that I was headed for Fryeburg and not Harrison. I was pretty annoyed with myself as I left Fryeburg for Bridgton. But that was the only way I was going to reach Harrison from there without going almost back to my starting point. I was pretty tired by the time I reached my father's lot and then I headed back out figuring I would get to Bethel and do those next, only I came out just outside of Norway instead of the Waterford road. By the time I got to Locke Pictured here are Girls on the Run participants after taking part in the first annual 5K Lilac Lap to benefit the McLaughlin Garden. The program utilizes volunteer coaches. Coaches are trained and provided ongoing support during the 10-week program. Anyone interested in becoming a coach, or wanting to learn more about the program, can contact Kate Goldberg at 824-3459. Donations may be made to Western Maine Girls Association, PO 1246, Bethel, ME 04217.

Mills I was just tired enough and annoyed enough that I went to Bethel anyway. By the time I got those lots tended to I was too tired to even think about the ones in East Bethel and Princess had begun to look at me and sigh. I took her home. Next time I decide to do some day tripping I will either take someone along who knows routes better than I do or I will get a map and plot my trip. It didn't help that I wasted all that gasoline at over two dollars a gallon, either.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

On Saturday, May 29, the Ring-McKeen Post and the Jackson-Silver Post (of Locke Mills) met at noon for a delicious buffet lunch followed by music by the Sweet Adelines quartet called "Four on a Match" comprised of Sue Bartlett, Alda Reynolds, Rose Fredericks and Darlene Glover. This was followed by lively music by the Parisians, Pete Andrews, Richard Jones, Jake Trask, Keith Wing and Malcolm Smith. Pastor Linwood Hansen of Bryant Pond was our minister for the ceremony as well as taping the program for TV. The luncheon program was under the direction of Mrs. Olive Risko. At 2 p.m. we watched the World War II Memorial dedication from Washington, D.C., on a huge TV on the stage. I've never seen such a large TV. One of the speakers was Mr. Leonard Lowell, a much-decorated WWII veteran. This was the biggest celebration in the history of the U.S.A. — impressive.

Saturday night, May 29, we held our first public supper of the year at West Paris Grange Hall.

Sunday afternoon, May 30, we held a special World War II Memorial at the Veterans' Home in South Paris. This also was very impressive. We held the flag-raising ceremony in front of the home and then went inside for the rest of the program. The Boy Scouts and veterans worked together raising the flag in rather fierce winds. Mike Michaud was speaker for the afternoon and helped present awards to several people, including Gil Turner. A delicious buffet lunch was served after the ceremony.

Monday dawned clear and bright for our Memorial parades, for which we are all thankful. We had a record crowd turn out here at West Paris and I thank you all for We've always known that the Maine dairy farmers who work with Oakhurst Dairy are the best. This year, we're pleased that the federal government recognized our farmers with the highest quality scores in the northeast. We pay our farmers a premium for quality and for pledging not to use artificial growth hormones.

Only Maine's best milk can be Oakhurst Milk, the natural goodness of Maine.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers,
How are you
this week.
Fine, I hope.

Dale and Kitty Nelson were at Cranberry Island over Memorial Day weekend opening up the family home and mowing and trimming the cemetery there. They also visited with Kitty's mother, "Snooks" Peterson at Sonogee Living Center in Bar Harbor.

Granddaughter Molly Nelson graduated cum laude from Endicott College in Beverly, Mass., on May 15 with a BA in Psychology. Congratulations, Molly. We're proud of you.

Matthew Nelson is on summer break from Emerson College. He's still in Boston though, for a while, working as an extra in a movie and working as a crew member on another film. He then plans to work for the summer in Beach Haven, N.J.

C.F. Barker Jr. Inc. has been working on Dale and Kitty Nelson's road recently, putting in a new culvert, adding gravel and grading it.

Albert Nelson, Jr. is at home now after being at his camp at Wilson's Mills over the past weekend.

Shirley Grant from Mechanic Falls was at the home of Frances Grant over the Memorial weekend. They attended the Rescue's annual Memorial Day Breakfast, which was good as usual. They always have a good turnout of people.

The cemeteries all look good. You're doing a good job, Ed Spooner.

Oh yes, I forgot to tell you last week that Troy Nelson brought us three nice trout. They were awfully good. Thanks, Troy.

Vicky Pike was around the area today selling her Avon products.

What can we do to get rid of the hundreds of caterpillars? They are just so terrible all over the yard. Maybe this rain that we had will wash them away — I hope.

When Albert came home from the "dump," or transfer station I should say I guess, he said that there was a new manager there and her name is Rocky Graham.

OK I have just finished reading "Marty on the Mountain" that Martin Engstrom wrote and had published. He worked on Mount Washington for 38 years. When I read it, I could just picture his drawl and big smile when he signed off the TV station. It was a very interesting book.

On Wednesday, June 2, about 21 members of the Friendly Senior Citizens met at the North Waterford Church vestry. There was a short meeting before the potluck lunch. The meeting was at 11:30 a.m. and lunch was at 12 noon. Thanks all for helping on that. The secretary's report was given and accepted. There was no treasurer's report as Marg. Kimball was at the Grange Hall with a special project. Arlene Wood led us all in the Pledge of Allegiance and also gave the blessing before the meal.

Speakers of the day were Pat Carson, camp director at Camp Susan Curtis, and Nate, who is a former camper and counselor now. Thanks, Pat and Nathan. He talked about camp that has done 30 years of providing a high-quality, tuition-free, summer camp for over 12,000 deserving Maine children. Pat also spoke about the Lion's Club that he hopes to get started here in the Stoneham-Waterford area.

To get people informed about this there was a get-together and supper at Camp Susan Curtis on June 7. Also at Camp Susan Curtis, on June 17 there will be a tour of the camp and supper at 6 and 6:30 p.m. If you don't know the way there, stop by my house (across from Stoneham Rescue building and has the big wood pile) and I will show you the way. By the way, it was the year of 1981, '82 and '83 that I worked there as secretary during the summers.

Molly Nelson has been working for her grandfather this past week using the wood splitter here. Thanks, Molly, it's a big help.

Judy Parlier and friend Larry Whitman from Mexico called on Frances Grant on Monday. Brendon Dyer and Elissa from Upton also called on Frances on Memorial Day.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer

A big thank you to the Jackson-Silver Post 68 of Greenwood for honoring our war dead on May 31. There was a good turnout to watch.

Alder River Grange will hold a regular meeting on June 11 at the hall with a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper and the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

If anybody has pictures of the Grange or the local area, would you bring them on the 11th to give to Stanley Howe to let him have slides made. He will return them as soon as he has pictures made of them.

Polly Smith will be having a big birthday party on June 30. If you wish to send cards or notes, her address is: Market Square Health Care Center, 3 Market Square, South Paris, ME 04281.

Mary Bean and Arthur Hertell attended Jessamyn Hertell-Hopkins' graduation from Edward Little High School on June 5.

Neil Olson's Sanford baseball team starts playing on June 11. Their first home game is on June 12 in Sanford.

Trappers' Weekend is August 27-28 this year.

Ceylon Kimball of West Virginia visited his parents, Richard and Pat, recently for a week.

Pat was looking out a window last week and saw a moose. It ambled across the main road and up the logging road by Amos' place.

Judy and Dawson Smith of Bucksport and Jamie Lanther of East Orland visited Arlene Harrington on May 30.

I hope everyone has their gardens in now. Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke

Well, finally, it feels like spring at last is here. What a lovely week end, despite any dampness we may have had to deal with. It was sure nice to see the sun.

The Maine chapters of the Christian Motorcyclist Association had their Ride Against Hunger this past Saturday. About 28 bikes participated in the ride (mostly CMA chapter members, but a few from the Maine Re-Treads) and together we raised over $1,035 for the Good Shepherd Food Bank in Lewiston. That translates to roughly over $130,000 worth of food that the Food Bank can distribute throughout the State of Maine.

Considering this is the first year we have done this, the turnout was terrific. After presenting the funds to the Food Bank, we were given a tour of the new facility. It is amazing how much food is donated to the bank, and for various reasons. We did learn that the Bank's greatest expense is not in gathering the food, but in dumping food that was donated but is not useable, crushed cans, boxes too damaged, etc. Such a very worthy cause.

Thank you to everyone who sponsored and donated to the riders. We are hoping and praying that we can make this an annual event and continue to grow with each passing year.

The Albany Church will be holding its annual yard sale soon. If you have any good, saleable items to donate, please contact Holle Corriveau to make arrangements. The church suppers are also beginning July 8, and then will be every two weeks afterward. So, mark your calendars for good, home-cooked meals.

Our thoughts and prayers go to Franklin Barton and his family as he continues his recovery.

The Barton's strawberry fields will be opening soon, so keep your eyes out for their signs.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week.

God bless and keep.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

This, by necessity, will be a very short column. It is one of those weeks when there is too much happening.

Dave and I went down to the big city on Monday; I had an appointment so we made a day of it. It was chilly there although it was in the 70s here. The sea breeze will be welcome when the heat hits, but was not needed then.

Last weekend, we went to a going-away party for son-in-law Josh West. Josh leaves for basic training next week. His entire family and most of ours visited. We all wish him well. For Dave it brought up memories of the '70s when he, too, went in the service because of lack of jobs on which to support a family. He is leaving one day before his and Rachel's wedding anniversary. Wish her well if you see her.

I gave slightly wrong information last week. The Waterford Selectmen met Monday and decided to change the Transfer Station hours. I think they came up with something for everyone. Tuesday and Thursday summer hours will be 12 to 5 p.m. Saturday summer hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday hours will be 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Hope these will work well for all. Our metal bin was supposed to be emptied on Monday and the freon was taken from all the fridges and air conditioners last week. We are trying to clean up the transfer station and make it a safer place for all. We are hoping all will begin to recycle more, to save us some of the cost of disposal of trash. Even the camps are beginning to get with the picture. Thanks to all who have cooperated.

On other fronts, Father's Day is the 20th so get ready to honor the fathers in your life. They probably all deserve a thanks or two. We will have a barbecue here at the end of the day — both Dave and I work Sundays.

The 24th is the day of the next Mountain Poets meeting. It is at Fare Share Commons from 7 to 9 p.m.

It is also the birthday of Becky Morin. Hope she has a good celebration.

That is all for now. I am off to run errands and then to work. Have a good week and stay out of the hot sun.

From the

Jackson-Silver
Auxiliary

It has been a busy spring for members. In March, in addition to making a donation to Camp Tall Pines, a special supper meeting was given to honor the Post on the birthday of The American Legion on March 17, 1919.

Also, delegates were selected to attend the State Legion and Auxiliary convention in June at Augusta, and planning was begun for celebrating the dedication of the World War II Memorial to take place in June in Washington, D.C.

In April, the monthly supper/dances resumed. There was one on June 8 and the next one will be on the second Tuesday in July.

Also in April, the Jackson-Silver Post and Auxiliary hosted the annual installation of officers of the Oxford County Council Legion and Auxiliary. In addition a donation was made to sponsor member Pam Rugg of the Christian Motorcyclists' Association for a ride to raise money for the many charities they help. Since then another donation has been made for their help for the Good Shepherd Food Banks.

Three juniors from Telstar Regional High School were chosen to attend Dirigo Girls State in June and spending money voted for them.

On May 1, the Testimonial for the Second District (Androscoggin, Franklin and Oxford Counties) Legion Commander Robert Thomas and President Elaine Rogers was hosted here, followed a few days later by a joint installation of the new post and auxiliary officers.

Dorsey Dunn is the recipient of the scholarship money this year, being the only one who applied. Monetary assistance is also being given to Marissa Corriveau to attend a National Youth Leadership Forum on Medicine to be held in Boston at the end of July.

Member Kelly Bickford, herself a veteran of the Persian Gulf conflict, is heading up an effort to collect comfort items to be sent to our troops presently in Iraq. Quite a few items have already been collected in a basket set up for that purpose at the Bethel Foodliner.

She will be sending them each week to the units from Maine. She will also be approaching local businesses or organizations for donations of phone cards, and small battery operated hand-held fans.

Attempts to plan the observance of the dedication of the WWII Memorial were complicated by the fact that the Legion Hall had already been spoken for long ago for a wedding on May 29 and another place must be found to hold our program.

Many thanks go to the town of Greenwood for allowing us to use the Town Hall and for having the cable installed for the TV.

Prior to the celebration forms were distributed to people wishing to register a WWII veteran in the Memorial and some were placed in the various town offices for people to pick up. Also, a list was sent with names of the WWII veterans and many of them had not seen the newspaper items about it.

All 72 places that had been set for the luncheon were taken. Very favorable comments are still being heard from those who attended the luncheon and enjoyed very much the singing of "Four on a Match," the quartet from the Sweet Adelines, and the tunes of the Parisians followed by showing of the Washington dedication on the 51-inch TV.

Much thanks to all those who helped, including Carol Whitman; Cubby Swan who helped with so many things including running the lift at the hall and carrying people down the stairs when the lift quit working; members of Ring-McKeen Unit of West Paris for furnishing desserts; and to Jefferson Chapter, OES, for donating cookies and bars. It couldn't have been done without all the help.

The previously scheduled regular meeting of June 17 has been postponed to June 24 when the delegates who attended the state convention on the 18th and 19th will be able to report. There will be no meetings in July.

From the

Gilead Bicentennial Committee

On Saturday, June 25 history buffs will find something of interest in Gilead, when the town celebrates its 200th year as an organized town from the settlement that dates back to 1772.

Since last July, the Gilead Bicentennial Committee has been meeting monthly to plan the 2004 Gilead Bicentennial Celebration, a daylong event, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. centered around the Town Hall.

The Town Hall will be open to the public from noon to 5 p.m. Memorabilia from Gilead's past will be on display for visitors' enjoyment, including an extensive display of photos from the collections of local people. Some of these pictures were used in two books recently published by the Bicentennial Committee.

The first book that was published was "The Smile of Providence: A History of Gilead, Maine" written by Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman. With more great pictures than could be fit into the first book, Howard and Hugh decided to do a picture book as well.

Both of these books are currently available from the Bicentennial Committee and will be for sale in the Town Hall at the bicentennial celebration.

Throughout the day there will be music played by local musicians. Vendors selling food and craft items will be set up along Depot Street. In the afternoon, there will be games for children.

Train rides will be offered to Gilead residents from Gilead to West Bethel and return, thanks to a caboose provided by Safe Handling, Inc. of Auburn and a locomotive and train crew from the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad.

Rides will leave Gilead at 9:30, 11:00, 12:30, 2:00 and 3:30. Space is limited, so Gilead residents will receive priority and advance reservations will be required. Riders will be required to sign a release form prior to boarding. Reservations may be made by calling Gale Tout at 836-2900.

A parade starting at 10 a.m. by the Old School House on Route 2 will travel down Route 2 to Bridge Street. There will be a section for children to either ride their bikes or walk in the parade. The Shriners' Funsters will be riding mini cars, and hopefully, area Fire Departments will participate.

The committee is presently looking for a marching band or any other live music for the parade. There is plenty of room in the parade for more entries. If you or your organization or band would like to participate, please call Lin Chapman at 836-2987 or Beverly Corriveau at 836-2032.

Outdoor enthusiasts and nature lovers have enjoyed for years the natural beauty of Gilead, nestled at the intersection of Routes 2 and 113, straddling the Androscoggin, where it meets the Wild River, among the foothills of the Speckled Mountain and Mahoosuc Mountain range. The Gilead Bicentennial Committee cordially invites the public to join the Town of Gilead in the celebration of its historic past.

From the

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Welcome to our newest member, RE/MAX In The Mountains, which is a locally owned real estate agency with the support and referral of an internationally recognized real estate organization. The owners are Margie Finley, Cherie Thurston and Julia Young, who can be contacted in their offices at One Parkway, Bethel, phone 824-2255, or e-mail: info@remaxinthemountains.com. They offer a full range of real estate services including listing and selling residential and commercial real estate as well as new construction and development. The full range of services and a look at their current listings can be found on the Web site www.remaxinthemountains.com.

Bill and Nancy White, owners of the Sudbury Inn, are planning a great party, otherwise known as the June Business after Hours, on Thursday, June 17. They are holding it in the Carriage House, which is directly behind the main inn, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Delicious food and beverage and tours of their carriage house rooms will be the order of the evening. All are welcomed.

Our July events are quickly approaching. We are seeking volunteers for each of the events: the 15th annual Bethel Art Fair on Saturday, July 3, the 15th annual Bethel Golf Classic on Monday, July 12, the Key Bank/Mollycokett Day Classic on Saturday, July 17, the chamber's famous lobster roll booth and Great Duck Race on the Sunday River, also on Mollycokett Day, and the Maine State Triathlon Classic, on Sunday July 25. We have volunteer incentives for each of these events and our staff is happy to find a volunteer "slot" that meets your schedule and skills. Please call us at 824-2282 if you have the time and interest in helping.

The chamber has two significant marketing initiatives underway that will bring a lot of attention to the Bethel area and our members. We are doing a 10,000 piece direct-mail postcard to be mailed to 7,500 previous visitors and 2,500 potentially new visitors. When the card arrives in the 10,000 mailboxes, the call to action will be to go to the chamber's new (and greatly improved) Web site, which can be found at www.bethel-maine.com.

We also hosted a couple Outdoor Travel Writers the past few days, again focusing our efforts on Bethel as a fishing destination. We recently were written up in "New England Game and Fish" magazine's June 2004 edition, an article titled "Maine's Androscoggin River Comeback" by Rod Cochran. Rod attended one of our travel writer's trips last June. Many thanks to Wende Gray and Rocky Freda for coordinating this effort.

A PAIR OF SHUTOUTS—The Telstar High School softball and baseball teams both notched shutout wins against Lisbon and Boothbay last week in the Western Class C quarterfinal playoffs. The Lady Rebels won 3-0, while the baseball team won 4-0. Above, Telstar's Ashley Stambolis puts down a bunt. Below, the Rebels' Travis Brooks runs to first as the Boothbay first baseman goes up for a high throw. The Telstar teams did not fare as well in semifinal action Saturday, as the softball team lost to Sacopee Valley and baseball to St. Dom's.

GEORGE F. BELISLE

George Francis "Frank" Belisle, 80, of Forest Park, Waterville, died Friday, June 4, 2004, at Inland Hospital in Waterville.

He was born in a railroad station in Percy, N.H., on May 29, 1924, the youngest of five children to Emile and Mabel Annie (O'Connor) Belisle.

He acquired polio at a very young age. Even with polio, which severely deformed his feet, he learned to skate, play hockey, tennis and walked with some help even on his last trip to the hospital.

He enjoyed gardening and sharing his harvest with others. His wife and garden assistant, Lucille, was usually left with the chore of canning and harvesting. He was an avid fisherman and Red Sox fan. He loved mountains and the ocean. He lived up to his name for he was very frank with his thoughts and statements most often with a lot of humor. He loved to play cards and particularly enjoyed poker and scat.

He worked for the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk railroads for over 40 years. This was a long legacy for the family, since his father and grandfather worked for the railroad. He very generously gave to charities, the church, and many in need.

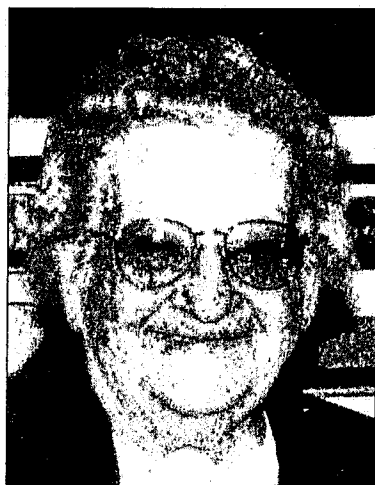

Survivors include his wife of 56 years, Lucille (Boucher) Belisle of Waterville; by all of his college-graduate children, Mary Ann Drury and her husband Cliff Bara of Troy, Mont., Suzanne Belisle and her fiancé Mike Blum of Audubon, Pa., Louis Belisle and wife Faith of Queensbury, N.Y., and Teresa Parent and her husband Thomas of China Village; a brother, Raymond of Williamsville, N.Y.; eight grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; several nieces and nephews and cousins. He was predeceased by his parents; a brother, Reginald; two sisters, Marguerite Crosby and Anne Natress.

A Memorial Mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday, June 7, at Notre Dame Church, Waterville, with the Rev. Philip Tracy officiating. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations in his memory may be made to a charity of one's choice.

Card of Thanks

Special thanks to everyone at Sudbury Village who donated food and offered to do things for me while I was laid up with my broken foot. Special thanks to my sister Kathleen and Sandra. My most grateful thanks to Thelma for always being there for me.
